

The Telephone Consumer Protection Act is indeed worthwhile and has already saved my family countless needless disruptions.